

Rochdale Training Association have launched some remote training sessions. These vary from taster sessions and short courses to fully accredited NVQs. If you have staff on furlough they are able to undertake training and development and now could be a good time to look at some options.

Topics include management and team leading, business admin, health & safety awareness and mental health awareness. For more information please contact marketing@rochdaletraining.co.uk 01706 631417

Don't forget our next Ambassador webinar is taking place on Wednesday at 8.30am. We will be speaking to two experts Dave Brereton, MD of IT company Myson Pages who will look at cyber security relating to home working and Danny Simpson, MD at MID Communications, a veteran of homeworking who will share his top tips for getting the most out of your day. We will also be joined by Paul Stobart, CEO of Zen Internet. The call will be held via Zoom and you do need to register:

And another webinar, in conjunction with Pro Manchester on the subject of modern manufacturing.

The stereotype that manufacturing is a dirty, unskilled and a repetitive industry couldn't be further from the truth. In a globally competitive marketplace, modern manufacturers are now using cutting-edge IoT, AI, automation and machine-learning technology to boost efficiencies and productivity. Manufacturers that have survived and thrived have exploited new technology, invested in the latest equipment and attracted the best young staff. The panel consists of 3 Rochdale businesses: Phil Cornell, CEO, KP Industries, Tim Fairley, MD of PDS and Tony Bannan, CEO of Precision Technologies Group, together with the Programme Director from the Made Smarter programme, Donna Edwards. You do need to register here:
