MysonPages is a local IT business who install, configure, manage and monitor computer systems for businesses. They effectively manage your IT whilst you get on with running your business.

They have recently launched a training portal for their clients which includes how-to-videos, hints, tips and tricks – a great resource during the current lockdown.

They have now agreed to offer this platform for the next 3 months FREE to non-clients. If you are interested, please email them at covid19@mysonpages.com outlining who you are, and that you would like to access the platform. Please also let them know that you saw this offer in Business Matters.

A sample of one of their videos is here: https://quasaranytime.wistia.com/medias/au223ezb9s and looks at remote working.

The Council has launched a 'hot-line' on which to report non-compliant businesses. This may be businesses that shouldn't be open, or ones not operating social distancing. If you see anything please do report it and council staff will follow up with a visit. Please use report.biz@rochdale.gov.uk but only use this address to report a business or venue that is ignoring the Government's social distancing measures or still open when they should be closed.
