

Face coverings – materials for printing and using on social media

The Council is regularly updating free resources on its website to help you communicate important safety messages. These now include posters for download and print as well as social media graphics asking customers to wear a face covering and thanking them for helping to stop the spread of the coronavirus. Feel free to download and share. <http://rochdale.gov.uk/health-and-wellbeing/coronavirus/Pages/working-safely.aspx>

Apologies for the short notice.

Manchester Met University Business School is holding a webinar on Thursday 23rd July at 2pm, to talk about how a Knowledge Transfer Partnership (KTP) may help your business. Management KTPs will help increase your capability and effectiveness through better management practices.

A KTP is a 3 way partnership between the university, your business and a graduate, and can last from 1 – 3 years. It will look at driving strategic change within your business and can cover accounting, marketing, HR and business operations.

There is a cost to this, with Innovate UK contributing 50-67% of the costs , and the remainder being covered by the business.

The webinar itself is free and further details and booking can be made here: https://www.eventbrite.com/e/small-businesses-management-ktps-working-together-to-transform-your-sme-tickets-113477765050?utm_content=&utm_medium=email&utm_name=&utm_source=govdelivery&utm_term=
